

HDHS is a reading school - reading for purpose and reading for pleasure.

We want you all to get involved in Readathon starting today!

What is it? It is when you use your reading to raise money for sick children in hospitals across the UK.

What happens to the money raised? The money you raise, buys books for sick children and pays for fun activities and events for sick children in UK hospitals.

How do I get involved? Collect your readathon sponsorship card from your tutor and start reading. Ask your family, teachers and friends to sponsor you. You can be sponsored per page, per chapter or per book. Set yourself a challenge!

What do I do with the money? People can sponsor you online by going to the Read For Good web page. If you are given cash, put it in an envelope and when you have collected all your sponsorships, hand the envelope to your tutor.

Maisy's Story:

This short film was shown during Children in Need and highlights how your reading can help sick children.

There will be prizes for the following:

- The student who raises the most money
- The tutor group who raises the most money

We are a reading school so why not use it to help those less fortunate than ourselves.
